Report on the on-the-spot painting competition:

On 25th September 2024, an on-the-spot painting competition on the theme "Dandi March" was organized at GDC Kulgam as part of the Gandhi Jayanti celebrations. The event was a collaboration between the NSS unit, the Debates and Seminar Committee, and the Department of Political Science. Faculty members and students from various departments attended the program, which was moderated by Dr. Rayees Ahmad, the NSS Program Officer.

Participants showcased their artistic talents by creating powerful depictions of the historic Dandi March, an iconic event in India's struggle for independence led by Mahatma Gandhi. After completing their paintings, the winners gave insightful presentations, explaining the inspiration and symbolism behind their work.

Falak Anjum secured the first position with an exceptional portrayal of the Dandi March, capturing the spirit of non-violent resistance that defined the movement. The competition provided a creative platform for students to engage with history and express their understanding through art. The event also enhanced their presentation and communication skills, making it an enriching experience for all who participated.
