PROFILE

- Versatile and dedicated Lecturer in History and Academic Counselor, offering a unique blend of expertise in both instructional delivery and student support services. With a robust background in higher education, I have excelled as a History Lecturer, delivering compelling lectures that stimulate critical thinking and a nuanced appreciation of historical contexts. My commitment extends beyond the classroom, contributing actively to curriculum development and fostering an enriching learning environment.
- In parallel, my role as an Academic Counselor has allowed me to guide and mentor students on their educational journeys. Through personalized counseling, I assist individuals in aligning their academic pursuits with their long-term career goals, promoting holistic development. My integrated approach as a History Lecturer and Academic Counselor underscores a commitment to nurturing both intellectual and personal growth; ensuring students thrive academically and personally under my guidance.
